Comment: An amazingly positive initiative that will benefit Hastings in numerous ways, but in particular by raising the town's profile in terms of a unique cultural offer. The new gallery will sit much more effectively in tourism terms with the architecture and retail outlets of the Old Town, than do the current amusement arcades and funfair - and will attract vistors and new residents with money to enhance the town's economy.

JERWOOD GALLERY CONSULTATION - EXHIBITION FEEDBACK 5-7 MARCH 2009

We greatly value all feedback and would like to know what you think about any aspect of the Jerwood Gallery proposals.

Please write as much or as little as you like in the space below (continue overleaf if necessary):

I think the designs look great. I think such an art space will be fantastic for Hastings. I love the black tiles on the gallery & the open public space.
However, I hope the cafe building will be more in keeping with the backdrop - the use of wooden cladding would be better I think in this case.

Maybe the Jerwood & council

What a difference this contemporary art gallery will make! Not only will it boost the custom of local businesses, be an excellent educational resource on our doorstep, boost the artistic activity in the town and help put Hastings on the map as the South East coastline becomes more + more a creative hub!

The plans are well thought-out, fitting with the landscape of the old town and offers a great opportunity for everyone!

It's subtle architecturally but huge in boosting the creative + business confidence in the town!

I think that this project is the best thing to happen to Hastings for 50 years. I think this proposal begins a process of renewal for the Stade that is long overdue. The benefits for the local community and economy will be huge. Both my children attend schools in Clive Vale and they will have a fantastic resource for learning at the end of the road which, previously, would have been outside the budget of the schools to provide. I very much hope that the application is passed and we can move on from the misinformed and damaging protests that have dominated these proposals.

Hastings is in much need of investment and rejuvenation. I believe Jerwood would be a great aspect and attraction for this town.

Also as a fine art undergraduate student myself the opportunity of having such a collection on my doorstep is fantastic. Hastings doesn't have many positive aspects, but its small art scene and beautiful old town are two of them. Jerwood can only enhance these factors.

This is a brilliant and unique opportunity for our town to have something very special, and precisely the type of inward investment our town has needed for decades. The proposed design is super, and I am certain that Jerwood on the Stade will bring thousands of extra visitors in - and visitors are our lifeblood.

I wholeheartedly support this application - and thank you Jerwood for choosing Hastings

Comment: Given that it will undoubtedly have vocal opponents, I would like to speak up as an ordinary Hastings resident in favour of the Jerwood application.

Clearly, there are wider transport issues still to be resolved. However, it is abundantly obvious that this is a considerate, appropriate proposal that would be of great benefit to the local area, both in terms of the gallery itself and the facilities that would be available to the community.

Whatever happens, I trust that the planning committee will not let the decision be determined by whoever shouts loudest.

Many thanks,

ian.

Comment: I can think of no real objections to the Jerwood coming to Hastings. The area it is to be built on is an eyesore anyway and I'm sure the coaches can be accommodated elsewhere - there's loads of space in the car parks at the end of Rock a Nore by the beach (if it was reorganised a bit)for example. Surely any new "attraction" is a good thing to bring more people into the town? Something of good quality and culturally interesting shows that Hastings has confidence in itself too. There will be jobs created building it (and all those builders have to stay somewhere and eat BIG breakfasts locally) and in running it. Local people, pupils and students will visit it and take part in its activities. Holidaymakers might visit out of curiosity and art lovers will make a beeline for it. I gather there will be a cafe and an open air exhibition/performance area too in an area which currently has virtually no amenities.

Personally I think that as long as the building is in keeping and doesn't dwarf the other buildings nearby, then Hastings Borough Council should welcome the Jerwood with open arms. It seems to be a "win win" proposition especially as public money isn't being used. Of course people's worries should be addressed but if it goes ahead I bet in five years time those worries will be forgotten and the Jerwood will have become a welcome landmark in the Old Town.

To those who would rather resite this gallery somewhere else in Hastings that Jerwood isn't interested in " don't look a gift horse in the mouth!" to the old town traders; more visitors = more trade. to the fishermen; keep calm and carry on.
To the council look what you started with the "NO to dog fouling" posters, what a sad negative trend. Please no more "NO" posters!

The cinder coach park is a sad legacy of bad seventies planning and this scheme is exactly what is required to lift this area out of the doldrums. No town can stand still and hope to magically thrive. Sensitive, well-planned change is good.

I would welcome the Jerwood, and can only think that it will be of great benefit, both in terms of bringing added business to Hastings and also to galvanising a sense of civic pride. I am delighted that the Jerwood Foundation have continued to enthuse about the project in the face of unfathomable local objection.

This is just a quick email to say how great it would be for Hastings to host some of the Jerwood collection. I am saddened by the small minded attitude of a vocal minority; but a minority they are. Most people with any sense can see the huge benefits this will bring to the town. One only has to look to Margate and the success of the Turner Gallery, even setting that aside I fail to see how it can be anything but positive for the town.

I wish you all the best and sincerely hopes the project comes to fruition. It will be a sad day for the town if it does not.

Yours faithfully

I find it quite astonishing that anyone could object to the Jerwood Gallery. Surely it can only be a good thing. It will bring jobs to the area and even more visitors than we get now. Additionally these new visitors will be the sort who will spend their money in all of the fantastic selection of shops, restaurants and bars of the Old Town and not just on kiss me quick hats and candy floss like those disgorged by the coaches. The coaches will still come and drop off their passengers, they will just park elsewhere (hopefully not Sea Road). If I were an Old Town trader I would be rubbing my hands together with glee not moaning that an ugly coach park is going to be transformed into a prestigious art gallery. We should welcome this amazing opportunity and stop this small town refusal to change mentality.

The architects should be congratulated on producing such a sensitive design that is in keeping with the site and surroundings. I am in total support of the application and consider the arrival of the Jerwood in Hastings as a very positive step towards the regeneration of the town.

It is also a relief to see the dull and under-used coach and lorry park properly utilised for the benefit of all residents.

I look forward to the commencement of the building works.

Having viewed the plans and model of the proposed building I think the architects have come up with an excellent design. The building is considerate to the neighbouring structures and the covering of glazed mathematical tiles references some of the older buildings nearby. The transformation of the coach park into a useable space for residents and visitors will be a great asset, facilitating events such as the seafood festival and hopefully others like it. I fully support this proposal for it's sensitive approach to the area and for the benefits it will bring to the town. This is a great opportunity for the regeneration of Hastings and I hope you give it your approval.

Comment: The Jerwood Foundation is synonymous with forward thinking art, as well as access to the arts for everyone. It is of huge cultural importance and Hastings should grab the opportunity with both hands!! The Jerwood is a supporting body who's aims are to encourage art for all, both in society and in education. The response of Hastings people who are against this proposal need to visit the Jerwood space in London and realise it is not an elitist gallery, it is a public space. The Jerwood Prizes (given annually) support a wide range of Fine and Applied Arts. Hastings is a town I have visited from childhood. My brother lives there with his family. When I visit now, I see a deprived, delapidated seaside town, who to be frank has seen better days. To have the Jerwood there would lift the whole feeling of the area, that would then attract other funding bodies. I was astounded such a prestigious Foundation was even looking at Hastings! The coach park would not be a great loss and other drop off points for coaches would need to be catered for, for all the people visiting the Jerwood! For god sake Hastings, take this as the future of the town, as it stands, it has little to offer to visitors. I live in Cornwall and the exact same thing happened with the Tate at St Ives. No matter how the narrow minded people complained about it, they cannot now deny the turn around to the towns business's and the Tates involvement with the local community. People travel from all over the world to visit. Don't deny your children a brighter future, this is not about class, the Jerwood will give your children a view of the world of art that they may never get otherwise. Art is a communicator and children love to paint and make, let the Jerwood be their foundation!

I would like to register my support for the redevelopment of the Stade coach park as an important public space suitable for use by all and as a site for the proposed Jerwood Gallery. The design of the gallery is sensitive to the unique environment of the Stade and the modesty and sensitivity of the proposal is to be congratulated. The educational benefits alone would justify the proposal, but the environmental gains will be significant, the enhanced profile of the town beneficial and the potential effect of the collection to the town's economy entirely positive.

I don't necessarily feel that the current building design is as creative as a "signature building" could be but it does "blend" into the surrounding structures quite well. I was also surprised that there appears to be no green landscaping to soften the proposed centre.

That said, I'm very excited that the Jerwood wants to locate their new art gallery here and can only see the gallery as a positive influence for our town, it's residents, visitors and local businesses.

Many Thanks for all the time and effort that goes into something like this,

Gary Baverstock

Hastings should concentrate on tourism. Bring people to this lovely town, this will bring in money, which will give locals the feeling of well being and pride.

Once tourism is on the increase, infrastructure, transport will improve and the town will thrive once again.

Artists have in the past changed areas of New York and Paris that were once grotty and are now hip.

Why any one can or would object to something that could put pride back into the old town is beyond belief, look at what projects of a similar nature have done for the pride and prosperity of Bilbao, St Ives & Newcastle to mention just a few.
Lets not be narrow minded on this opportunity and get behind this project.

How wonderful that we will have a top class gallery on our doorstep. Fantastic resource for all of the schools plus a cafe that utilises the super views of the sea and east hill. This is a sympathetic and thoughtful design and I look forward to the day it opens.

I had a flat in London SE1 where Jerwood have their first centre and it really boosted the area and contributed to the regeneration of a down-at-heels area into a thriving local community with art and rehearsal space freely available to anybody who needs it and with great subsidies in place. Wonderful, truly socialist organisation that elevates and inspires rather than depresses communities. Also it will bring in money because the tourists that come to the Jerwood will be spending a decent amount on a day trip unlike the coach trippers who bring sandwiches and a thermos, hog the coach park and only buy a stick of rock and a bag of chips...or so local anecdotal evidence suggests.

The building is considerate to the neighbouring structures and the covering of glazed mathematical tiles references some of the older buildings nearby. The transformation of the coach park into a useable space for residents and visitors will be a great asset, facilitating events such as the seafood festival and hopefully others like it. I fully support this proposal for it's sensitive approach to the stade and for the benefits it will bring to the town. This is a great opportunity for the regeneration of Hastings and I hope you give it your full approval.

Comment: I am a frequent and regular visitor to Hastings/St Leonards for family reasons, and have seen astonishing regeneration over the past decade and a half, and have followed the Jerwood debate with interest. The presence of a serious International standard gallery in Hastings would do wonders for the town, both economically and socially - as has happened with comparable developments e.g. in St Ives, Liverpool and Gateshead. The design of the building and the site looks simple, uncluttered and appropriately modern; appears to harmonise beautifully with the surrounds; and provides a varied and flexible addition to the space available for both arts and community activities. I have always thought that the existing car/lorry park on the site was an eye sore, reminding me of the cleared but undeveloped WW2 bomb sites still seen until recently in places like Liverpool. I understand people's concerns about visitors and car parking but I am sure that people will adapt, and it is worth remembering that there is no visitor parking near Tate Modern, which has nevertheless become the centre of an astonishingly vibrant area of restaurants, shops, etc. I wonder how many of the objectors realise how prestigious and generous the Jerwood Foundation is, and what its presence in the town will do for the fame of the town. Taking the new University Centre into account as well, Brighton beware.

The Jerwood will make a huge difference not only to Hastings but St Leonards too (we sometimes get forgotten in all the debate.

This is exactly the sort of development that the town needs to update its image and provide a additional reason for visitors to come to the town and to help it regenerate further in future without having the adverse impact that a few vocal detractors have suggested. I can see nothing but good in this proposal and wholeheartedly welcome it.

Jerwood Planning Application - The Stade. HS/FA/09/00087

I would like to add my support to the proposal for the Jerwood planning application at the Stade, Hastings.

I have studied the proposals for the Jerwood & associated parking, which in my opinion follow an option that would successfully cater for parking, provide a much needed arts & social centre for the town to upgrade the existing provision of amusement arcades & would (according to the precedent of other arts centres in local towns) improve prospects for a wide range of businesses.

Yours sincerely

Comment: The Jerwood Foundation is synonymous with forward thinking art, as well as access to the arts for everyone. It is of huge cultural importance and Hastings should grab the opportunity with both hands!! The Jerwood is a supporting body who's aims are to encourage art for all, both in society and in education. The response of Hastings people who are against this proposal need to visit the Jerwood space in London and realise it is not an elitist gallery, it is a public space. The Jerwood Prizes (given annually) support a wide range of Fine and Applied Arts. Hastings is a town I have visited from childhood. My brother lives there with his family. When I visit now, I see a deprived, delapidated seaside town, who to be frank has seen better days. To have the Jerwood there would lift the whole feeling of the area, that would then attract other funding bodies. I was astounded such a prestigious Foundation was even looking at Hastings! The coach park would not be a great loss and other drop off points for coaches would need to be catered for, for all the people visiting the Jerwood! For god sake Hastings, take this as the future of the town, as it stands, it has little to offer to visitors. I live in Cornwall and the exact same thing happened with the Tate at St Ives. No matter how the narrow minded people complained about it, they cannot now deny the turn around to the towns business's and the Tates involvement with the local community. People travel from all over the world to visit. Don't deny your children a brighter future, this is not about class, the Jerwood will give your children a view of the world of art that they may never get otherwise. Art is a communicator and children love to paint and make, let the Jerwood be their foundation!

It has a quiet presence, which does not overwhelm or detract from the other buildings or surrounding landscape. Unfortunately, this cannot be said of the coaches and lorries which currently occupy the site.
This is a wonderful opportunity for Hastings..... which really needs a boost in fortune and confidence.
Thank you to Jerwood / HBC

I believe this is a fantastic proposal and a great opportunity for Hastings. The gallery has been sympathetically designed to enhance its surroundings rather than detract from. I believe it will bring a much needed tourism revenue to the town from people who are art aficionados who will also greatly appreciate the <sup>history</sup> <sup>character that</sup> Hastings has to offer and the architectural gems that make up the Stade. It will also greatly benefit the local businesses <sup>in</sup> the Old Town and the new hotel / fish restaurant. Very impressed.

Also pleased to see disabled parking + lifts included in the design. Thank you.

I have had a house in Pett Level for some time and am currently considering moving my business down to the area and would be employing staff from the local areas as a result - I specialise in promoting arts and design clients to press. If this application was rejected, I would seriously have to reconsider Hastings as a place I would like to bring a creative based business and feel that this would sent out an incredibly negative message to the rest of the UK that Hastings is not interetsed in moving forward and developing as a place for future investement.

Comment: I fully support this planning application. In my professional role supporting new business start-ups across the Borough and encouraging entrepreneurial activity in general, I feel the Jerwod Gallery would have a significant positive impact on the town as a whole and the independent business sector in particular.

Experience across this country and mainland Europe demonstrates the huge benefit of encouraging cultural tourism - the largest example being the impact of the Guggenheim in Bilbao, which has turned a largely declining former industrial Spanish city into a major destination for tourists from across the continent and beyond.

On a smaller scale, these proposals would help bring thousands of new visitors to our town throughout the year, reducing the seasonality suffered by many businesses - especially in the Old Town area - which threatens their cash-flow and on-going sustainability.

In combination with proposals for The Stade redevelopment into a major public space and venue for outdoor events, these plans represent a major economic boost for our Borough during these difficult economic times. I hope they will receive the full support of the Planning Committee.

In favour of the Jerwood Gallery - it will add to the Cultural offer of Hastings, supporting the arts, tourism & the local community & economy!

We will certainly use the facility, know others locally who will too and the building only adds to the historic buildings + area - very pleased to hear no fishermen huts will be removed.

Well done to the architects.

Comment: I fully support the Jarwood project and as a resident (twenty years) would wish for this planning to be approved.

Over recent years, there have been noticeable improvements within Hastings, in terms of new structural and cultural developments, which have been of benefit to us all.

I believe in diversity, the diversity of peoples and culture, without prejudice (achieved through education and experience) and positively support ideals, such as Jarwood as a considered medium.

However, my underlying motivation doesn't preclude it's potential entertainment value, which incidentally, far exceeds that of a car park for juggernauts and people carriers. Saying that though, I do appreciate that this is a commercial seaside town (good one at that) and fully appreciate, the need for coaches (people, lots of) which provides additional revenues (real world and all) but surely, alternatives could be found for this.

I like the idea of Jarwood and what it represents but would also feel proud as a parent, to give my children the opportunity to experience more than the amusements arcades, although, they may beg to differ :-)

Please bring this to Hastings.

Comment: Despite having put forward a recent observation/objection on this link regarding elements of the proposed Jerwood gallery building that will obscure the view of the western elevation of the net huts, I would nevertheless like to compliment you on your choice of external materials i.e. the grey/black glazed terracotta tiles, a sample of which I saw at your weekend exhibition. It was quite refreshing to see a robust, earthy and tactile material being selected instead of the usual soulless concrete glass steel and plastic that is so common place these days. At least the gallery will not look like another overgrown bus shelter.

I would be interested to know if the tiles are designed to butt together to resemble glazed brickwork, examples of which can be seen on neighbouring historic buildings or do they overlap one another like roofing slates? Without having seen the tiles laid out on mass, I think my preference would be the former.

Comment: I feel strongly that this project is an excellent opportunity for the town. I lived near St Ives when there was a lot of noise in protest for the building of St Ives Tate but as soon as the building had stood for a year I heard nothing but positive comments and the town would never look back in terms of kudos and trade brought to the St Ives.
The Jerwood plans look good and like they fit in with the existing architecture in that area of the Hastings. If there were any negative to be said I would have to ask what the plan was to replace the loss of parking spaces in that area as there is a huge problem trying to navigate or park around that area of Hastings as it is. Some provision for extra parking spaces should be made either out of or in the town in my opinion.
I think that with the opening of the university and other projects in the town the Jerwood would be an invaluable addition to the area.

I think the building is sympathetic to the surrounding area, and as someone born in Hastings, would like to see this area utilised in this way. I can imagine it bringing many benefits. It would also be wonderful to see as much local involvement with the construction as well as when it is up and running. If local people can work on it and if local sources can be used, then it would be all the better. I thoroughly support the Jerwood application.

The building does seem to compliment the surroundings.

Would like to see the height lowered so that it doesn't dominate above the net huts.

Hopefully the gallery will also give consideration to the local population and give discounted or free admissions to the people of Hastings, especially those in the Old Town.

It will bring new people to Hastings and generate jobs and sustainable income. It will improve the area and enhance the beach and all who use it. It will get rid of an ugly eyesore car park which is largely underused for most of the year. I hope that the building will put Hastings on the map as a place to visit both for British residents and foreign visitors.

Personally, I would like to see included in the planning an outdoor performance space which offers some basic protection from the elements, an acoustic backdrop, and a low maintenance structure open to very adaptable public use.

Subject: Hastings Online - Site Feedback (apologies!)

...Sorry about that! Here it is once more, with my address. I hope this is okay.

I am writing to offer my support for the Jerwood Gallery and all the hugely positive benefits it will bring to our town. I have been a resident of Hastings for all of my 42 years, and in that time I have witnessed our town undergo many changes, some gradual, most of them positive. I've always been proud to be a Hastonian, and I strongly believe the Jerwood project will prove to be a considerable asset to both our town and its surrounding area. It will inspire, inform and enrich the people of our borough and its visitors, who will have yet another reason to come and enjoy all that Hastings has to offer.

Yours,

Andrew Willard.

JERWOOD GALLERY CONSULTATION - EXHIBITION FEEDBACK 5-7 MARCH 2009

We greatly value all feedback and would like to know what you think about any aspect of the Jerwood Gallery proposals.

Please write as much or as little as you like in the space below (continue overleaf if necessary):

It looks like a very well thought through design - The impact of the gallery, community facilities, cafe and usable public space is an exciting prospect for the town.

Its such a positive project - This underused, shabby space will be put to excellent use -

Comment: I wholeheartedly support this application for the future of Hastings in general and the Old Town in particular. As a business owner I can attest that traders desperately need inward investment in our town in order to survive. (I have invested a great deal of my own money in Old Town regeneration, because I believe this is a wonderful place to live and work, and should be discovered by a wider public.) I recently judged the Coast Awards for the National Magazine Company and among my fellow judges was the head of Tate St. Ives. He told me that that the experience in St. Ives was similar: there was a small group against the development, but they were very vociferous, verging on the violent in their resistance to the development. The overwhelming majority of St. Ives residents, as in Hastings, welcome the gallery there - as I believe we should with Jerwood. However, during the planning process for the extension to the St. Ives Tate Gallery, that 'anti' brigade made a great deal of noise again. He felt - as I do here - that the development should not be hampered by a small group who would be resistant to any form of change, and who do not have the vision to see how a project like this can enhance a community. I wish Jerwood and the Planning Department well with this wonderful project.

Many of the coaches arriving in Hastings are foreign coaches with their exit doors on the opposite side of the vehicle to ours. If these coaches are to stop at the proposed drop off points along the sea front, their passengers would have to step out into the road to exit the vehicle. Has this been considered?

- 1 it is not going to ruin the fishing huts and net huts.
- 2 it will increase numbers of visitors to area
- 3 will increase job opportunities (i need a job!)
- 4 it will add "competition" and diversity to bexhill's dlwp / offers an arts venue at the other end of the prom....
- 5 gives people a new arts focus in the heart of hastings - and creates a contrast to the exisiting seaside entertainment....

will we be getting a faster train line into london too as a result of this regeneration?

Please write as much or as little as you like in the space below (continue overleaf if necessary):

The whole Jerwood Gallery scheme, combined with the Stads development and now a good looking architectural proposal will be an excellent cultural facility for Hastings, its people and visitors. It will attract more visitors, and support and attract other excluded groups from the Hastings hinterland. It will also greatly support local arts and cultural industry and education at all levels.

The proposed building looks brilliant and can only enhance Hastings Old Town. Hopefully it will be big enough to contain the explosion of creative energy it will set off.

The consultation was excellent - usually by 'live' interpreters. GIVE IT PLANNING PERMISSION!!

Although I think it would have been better to site the building on the West side of the Stade/coach park area, I have no objection to the proposals for the gallery design - if anything, I am surprised at how small & quiet it is. Like the outline proposals like the basic design

I think it's a very good idea, good for the town,
I hope you won't be put off by the opposition to it.
However, I'm concerned it may look rather gloomy, although I can see you'd want to make it fit in with ~~the~~ the rest of the town; and it shouldn't be too modernist in design, that would be out of keeping with the Old Town.

Good luck with it!

However, there are other sites such as The Old White Rock Baths, The Old Observer Building, The old Bathing Pool site at Marina, St. Leonards, and also St Marys in The Castle that are lying unused & vacant whereas the Coach Park is currently providing an active service to the town.

Comment: The Jerwood Gallery proposals are inobtrusive and in keeping with the colours and style of existing structures and will not interfere with much-loved atmosphere of the Fishing Beach. I think it will work perfectly on that site and be a very exciting addition to the Old Town, attracting bigger-spending visitors that will support traders and businesses. Please stick with this project, it would be a tragedy to throw away this opportunity and we have nothing to lose but a carpark and some low-grade outlets that have monopolised a prime site for far too long already.

AN AMAZING AND POSITIVE POSSIBILITY FOR HASTINGS AS A TOWN. THIS REALLY WOULD ENCOURAGE ANOTHER DIFFERENT, VISITOR TO THE TOWN, WITHOUT IN ANY WAY COMPROMISING THE PEOPLE WHO LOVE THIS PLACE ALREADY. IT IS YET ANOTHER ATTRACTION THAT WILL HELP DRAW PEOPLE HERE AND TO DIFFERENTIATE THE TOWN AS A DESTINATION FROM NEIGHBOURING PLACES SUCH AS BRIGHTON AND FOLKESTONE. The proposal for the building is in keeping with the character and surroundings of the Stade. The dimensions + materials will be a great improvement on the whole area.

The Jerwood Gallery will greatly contribute to the regeneration of the whole town. I am totally in favour of it.

13 March 2009

Dear Sir/Madam,

Re Planning Application HS/FA/09/00087 - Proposed developments of The Stade

I sent a letter 14/01/09 to Jerwood Gallery and the Stade Masterplan Consultation/ Destination Management & Marketing / Hastings Borough Council, regarding my views on the proposed developments on The Stade but have not received a reply or acknowledgement of my letter.

I would like to voice my opinion, and I hope my views may support the views of others and be noted.

My background and why I am commenting

I am a food and travel journalist and photographer and have done much over the years in international and UK publications, from Vogue Australia to Marie Claire Italy, to publicise Hastings as a beautiful unspoilt gem of a place to visit, and have also produced several articles for YOU magazine (the Mail On Sunday supplement), to promote our newly-established seafood festival weekend.

My personal interest stems from the fact that I have properties in All Saints Street and in the High Street, both of which I am restoring. In addition, my childhood was linked closely with the town, because my grandparents lived nearby. So I have strong attachment to the area and care what happens to the town. I am strongly in favour of strengthening the Old Town economy, and will declare a personal interest in that I am soon to open in a shop in the High Street, and would happily encourage and support sound ideas for the development of the town.

My views on the proposals

Hastings Old Town beachfront along Rock-a-nore Road is known for its beach-launched fishing fleet, its elegant net sheds, fish and chip shops and jellied eel bars - all good, honest, simple things that have links directly with the fishing industry. And this is why many people come to Hastings - to enjoy the unique marine-led things that this old seaside town has to offer.

An art gallery is not unique. Neither is it part of Hastings, and neither does, I submit, it have any place being on the Stade.

The area under discussion is an open space and I say should be left just as that: an open space, clear of the clutter of buildings, with views to the sea and the boats, and with the architecturally amazing net sheds doing everything that is needed. These unique, strong, established architectural statements provide the right tone on the beachfront and the views to them should be left open and clear.

You really can't better views of the net sheds, sea, boats and open space, so we should not try to. Ideally, I'm in favour of moving the coaches away, yet I don't object to their presence, since at least they move off at the end of each day. Why should the car park not be used for markets and events - be a fluid, flexible and changing place, without the statement of permanent structures?

I suppose that the policy behind this proposal is that the Council have in mind a building that can help transform the fortunes of the Old Town - an architectural statement. I see it as a rather half-baked mediocre building, closer I would suggest to the ugly modern structures already there, which will take away the views of the sea and interfere with the presence of the net sheds. This would be the worst of both worlds - a boring building cluttering up the area further without the hoped-for added visitors.

Why on earth should we build yet more new buildings to house cafes and so on when the Old Town is littered with uncared-for buildings that are in dire need of occupation and renovation? For instance, there's a wonderful property now up for sale at the bottom of the Old Town High Street that would work well as a two-story café/restaurant, and this has been empty and derelict for years now. It may not be big enough for the plans you have, but you take the point: there are other ways of incorporating an art gallery.

Who would benefit from this proposed gallery and restaurant, apart from those that own it? Who is going to travel to Hastings because of a mediocre art gallery? I say very few, and we may have even fewer visitors if The Stade loses yet more of its original charm.

I strongly feel energies should be put into sensitively regenerating the wonderful architecture that Hastings already has, rather than building new structures in the desire to make some sort of inappropriate statement on the beachfront. Many properties in the Old Town need money spending on them. I know this because I am renovating two at the moment, and they are both in bad state.

If the Council is so keen to spend, or as in the case of Jerwood, use others funds to improve the town, I would respectfully suggest this is where you should direct the money. Pulling down toilets that are perfectly serviceable and erecting yet more buildings on the beachfront should be last on the list.

Hasn't Hastings learnt its lessons, since pulling down everything in The Bourne, building the ugly Sea Life Centre, and now some rather dubious looking flats with limp visual connection with the net huts along Rock-a-Nore Road? And how about the old White Rock Baths further along the promenade, these could be put to good use as a gallery – and would make a great retro-modern space for contemporary art; and then there's a pier, in dire need of attention; and further in town, the wonderful derelict Observer building on Cambridge Road – another gem, which unbelievably is threatened with being pulled down. This iconic building is a prime space for an art gallery, for its 1920s industrial beauty is along similar lines of the Tate Modern. This would certainly pull in the crowds, and put a beautiful landmark to good use. Sound creativity, accurate imagination and money needs to be applied to the great architectural heritage Hastings already has, if this town is to get back on its feet.

Underground car-park suggestion

This has nothing to do with Jerwood, but I have another alternative suggestion, directly relating to the Old Town: how about building a private underground car park in the Old Town for parking permit holders – there are never enough spaces to park, and this has the added advantage that unsightly cars won't be seen either. You could then put back the stones that once covered All Saints Street, make it a non parking/no entry street (in specific times) and, like Mermaid Street in Rye, have another tourist attraction really put on the map - and right on The Stade doorstep.

I look forward to your reply, and if you would be interested in me joining in further discussions with this project or any other, I would be very happy to be involved.

Yours faithfully,

Alastair Hendy

HASTINGS IS A TYPICAL SEASIDE TOWN THAT SHUTS FOR THE WINTER. THE INTRODUCTION OF THE JERWOOD WILL BRING VISITORS AND LIFE TO THE TOWN THROUGH THE YEAR.

CURRENTLY THE COACH PARK IS A MONSTROUS WHICH DOES NOT NEED SAVING. THIS REJUVENATION OF THE AREA WILL BE A VAST IMPROVEMENT.

THE TOWN IS A HOT BED OF ARTISTIC TALENT WHICH SHOULD BE CELEBRATED. AN INTERNATIONAL RENOWNED GALLERY WILL BENEFIT THE LOCAL SCENE

FINALLY, CITIES/TOWNS THROUGHOUT THE UK WOULD DESPERATELY WANT THIS SORT OF OPPORTUNITY. RATHER THAN BEING AFRAID, WE

An excellent & exciting use of the Stade
The 'events' space has great potential for ALL the community. As an artist I am fully in favour of the Jerwood...

One very important aspect of the design is NOT to gentrify the whole site –
Hastings' charm is the flotsam & jetsam of the working beach front – an asset which is very important to ALL. The site must not be tidied up, the fishermen's road should be left unimproved. An integrated approach.

A whole heartedly welcome development to the town and this area in particular. It cannot be built soon enough. The final proposal is now totally acceptable - has taken scale into account and the out of scale plan rejected, suitably. I along with many look forward with optimism to this happening at a time of financial crisis for the county and is therefore a great investment in a town crying out for investment and rebirth.

Good luck

I am thrilled by the prospect of the Jerwood coming to the Old Town.
I am in full agreement of the proposed materials used, and feel that it is perfectly in keeping with the surrounding historical buildings.
It will be a great asset to the town, and living at the bottom of All Saints St I look forward to this building being a close neighbour.

Super, Super and very much hope the Jerwood Gallery will come to the improved Stade area. Much of the area is a tacky, "undecided" mess at the moment & it needs a broader cohesion of old & new.

I am very much in favour of the Jerwood at the stade. My only area of uncertainty is the actual design of the gallery building; It is not inspired or attractive. It's very square + plain. I'd still rather have it than not, but just wish it was better looking.

I was for the idea in principle but was concerned that perhaps the architecture may be disappointing so I was very pleasantly surprised by the plans.

I feel very positive about every aspect of the plans and like the additional things like the cookery school. I hope many events are held in the open space and that this is well utilized although it will just be good to have some attractive open space.

Very good use of space - much more devoted to public space/facilities than anticipated.

Appears to blend in with neighbouring buildings.

The project will be of great benefit to Hastings culturally & perhaps financially. It should considerably improve the present image of the town & help off-set the frequent bad media publicity that Hastings receives

It is to be hoped that the developers will not be deterred by the hostile uninformed criticism coming from some quarters

This excellent opportunity should not be allowed to be at risk through ignorant bias.

My concerns are the ramifications for car parking. We are told that only 2-3 extra coaches will be parked on Sea Road. I strongly feel that there is an understatement of this and will open up the way for Sea Road to change for private car parking. The current free car parking is a great asset to both locals and visitors. As a pensioner I, and others, will not be able to afford parking fees on a daily basis for an hour to walk to the shops and back. We are discouraged to be active in our old age but this potential activity will be put in jeopardy when parking fees are introduced.

An excellent opportunity for Hastings - Brindling appears to be designed to relate well to the vernacular architecture
- particularly like the use of the glazed tiles.

As a practising artist I find this a very exciting proposal which should be of real advantage to local galleries as it will attract more art buyers into the town.

Should raise the status of Hastings in similar way to The Turner Gallery in

I very much support this proposal
It would add to the spirit and community of Hastings.

The main objection seems to be the loss of the coach park and the <sup>traffic</sup> implications.
Perhaps the Council could flatten
Flamingo Park and put the coach park there!

It looks very interesting - a little worried it looks a bit utilitarian in build + although
I like the stone, will it be a little dark.
I greatly support this - I can only think of good unless it isn't publicised + supported when it becomes just an empty space. I believe we should get behind this so it benefits the town.

I'm looking forward to it. Although the Gallery will be a real boon both culturally and financially for the Old Town, I am most looking forward to the open plaza around the gallery. Growing up in Hastings Old Town I spent my teens completely bored out of my mind and doing a lot of things I probably shouldn't due to the lack of anything fun to do for my age group! Festivals, film screenings and events are exactly what I always wanted at that age (and now) so it's nice to see that at last the Old Town is getting the makeover it deserves!

Very supportive of this project. Much better use of this seafront area than the dreadful Lorry & bus park. Will complement the small galleries in the old town & attract out of town visitors travelling to the area for other facilities like the De La Warr Pavilion. Like the <sup>ceramic</sup> material chosen for the building, the design & orientation. Very important though that an alternative lorry / bus park is identified rather than putting buses on local streets

As Guest house owners in Hastings and as local residents ,we feel the Jerwood gallery will be a great boost for Hastings.We totally support the application for the site and think it is a much better use for a prime seafront space in a tourist town

The visitors it will bring are much needed in Hastings. The hoteliers and other shops and restaurants will all benefit so will the local people.

It is a fantastic opportunity for the town. We would like to offer any support we can for this planning application to be granted.

A great exhibition - clearly showing how well the proposal fits into the Grade 2 site + the great improvement visually we will obtain when it goes ahead.

The collection looks fascinating & I look forward to being amongst the first visitors!

Material choice is very appropriate + its scale is fine (I had heard from protesters outside that it was too big - rubbish!!)

Probably one of the most exciting projects to have visited Hastings!

- Proposed gallery fits in beautifully with surroundings - ~~great~~ resolution to tricky problem -

~~The~~ I can imagine how the building will reflect weather changes - and how clever that it fits in with the blackness of the net huts - ~~it~~ it will look as though its always been there -

Public space BECOMES clearly defined - invites gatherings - enhances and gives shape to all the existing events that happen!

In the shops comments /prevent local businesses , obvious fish .Would it be possible to in some way build in space to sell fish if nec off the premises ( perhaps if this was done for a while at least at no extra cost to thefish business bisare! as it sounds at least it might show senitivity to their needs , plus small mini buses connecting to the rest of Hastings and St Leonards . I feel that as artists we need to bend over backwards to make small industries feel at home rather than shut out in order to collect their support .Kind regards Kathrine tel 01424 447828 or e-mail

I'm not especially impressed with the actual buildings but they ~~are~~ do seem sympathetic with the surroundings - very uncontroversial -

Re: application number HS/FA/09/00087
The Jerwood

Hastings is a town with a lot of character and potential that needs protecting, nurturing and developing. I feel that an entity like the Jerwood would compliment the town's inherent character whilst enriching its connection to the arts, which is one of the things that helps give the town some of its unique personality.

I recognise the need to protect the town's historical past and its modern connections with it; I believe the Jerwood will allow this connection to be maintained and respected whilst also helping to regenerate the town and bring it more strongly into the modern age. It would add greatly to the appeal of the seafront and bring more people into the area; this would, I believe, stimulate interest in and appreciation of the town's many other features of interest and thereby create support for them.

This part of Hastings in particular has many things to offer of great local, cultural and historical value, such as the Old Town, the fishing huts, the Stables Theatre, the Seafood and Wine Festival, as well as many interesting shops, restaurants and pubs. These other entities would surely benefit from the additional people that the Jerwood would bring into the area, which is sure to create a ripple effect out into the rest of the town as well. It would also give the Hastings seafront something to offer far beyond the usual seaside attractions, charming though they are to many. I think that the character of Hastings would be enriched and some of its great potential would be realised by the addition of the Jerwood.

Hastings is in much need of investment and rejuvenation. I believe Jerwood would be a great aspect and attraction for this town.

Also as a fine art undergraduate student myself the opportunity of having such a collection on my doorstep is fantastic. Hastings doesn't have many positive aspects but its small art scene and beautiful old town are two of them. Jerwood can only enhance these factors.

Having viewed the plans and model of the proposed building I think the architects have come up with an excellent design. The building is considerate to the neighbour structures and the covering of glazed mathematical tiles references some of the older buildings nearby. The transformation of the coach park into a useable space for residents and visitors will be a great asset, facilitating events such as the seafood festival and hopefully others like it. I fully support this proposal for it's sensitive approach to the area and for the benefits it will bring to the town. This is a great opportunity for the regeneration of Hastings and I hope you give it your approval.

I find it quite astonishing that anyone could object to the Jerwood Gallery. Sure it can only be a good thing. It will bring jobs to the area and even more visitor than we get now. Additionally these new visitors will be the sort who will spend their money in all of the fantastic selection of shops, restaurants and bars of the Old Town and not just on kiss me quick hats and candy floss like those disgorged by the coaches. The coaches will still come and drop off their passengers, they will just park elsewhere (hopefully not Sea Road). If I were an Old Town trader I would be rubbing my hands together with glee not moaning that an ugly coach paragon is going to be transformed into a prestigious art gallery. We should welcome this amazing opportunity and stop this small town refusal to change mentality.

I think this proposal begins a process of renewal for the Stade that is long over. The benefits for the local community and economy will be huge. Both my children attend schools in Clive Vale and they will have a fantastic resource for learning at the end of the road which, previously, would have been outside the budget of the schools to provide. I very much hope that the application is passed and we can move on from the misinformed and damaging protests that have dominated these prop.

The architects should be congratulated on producing such a sensitive design that is in keeping with the site and surroundings. I am in total support of the application and consider the arrival of the Jerwood in Hastings as a very positive step towards the regeneration of the town.

It is also a relief to see the dull and under-used coach and lorry park properly utilised for the benefit of all residents.

I look forward to the commencement of the building works.

Sensitively low-rise design that fits in with existing black timber buildings. It will not dominate but will be an exciting focal point of interest in the old town I give the Jerwood Gallery and this design my full support and can't wait to walk inside.

As Guest house owners in Hastings and as local residents ,we feel the Jerwood gal will be a great boost for Hastings.We totally support the application for the sit and think it is a much better use for a prime seafront space in a tourist town

The visitors it will bring are much needed in Hastings. The hoteliers and other shops and restaurants will all benefit so will the local people.

I would like to register my support for the redevelopment of the Stade coach park as an important public space suitable for use by all and as a site for the propos Jerwood Gallery. The design of the gallery is sensitive to the unique environment of the Stade and the modesty and sensitivity of the proposal is to be congratulat The educational benefits alone would justify the proposal, but the environmental gains will be significant, the enhanced profile of the town beneficial and the po effect of the collection to the town's economy entirely positive.

PS I think the location's a mistake though, as putting it at the West St Leonards end of town would have encouraged opening up the whole coastal strip, rather than concentrating traffic and footfall in the Old Town.

This would be in terms of income generation via tourism, the complementary nature of the gallery in terms of events such as the Seafood and Wine festival and local arts and a way for providing local jobs for local people. The plans are, in my opinion, in keeping with area.

Comment: I believe that the Jerwood Gallery will have an enormously positive effect on the town. It will reinforce Hastings' reputation as a thriving centre for the arts and make sense of a neglected part of the town which really should be its hub. I believe that the gallery and associated developments will be truly inclusive and a huge boost for everyone here.

It will be a great boost to the local economy of Hastings as well as providing a vital cultural and educational resource for residents and visitors of all ages. The transformation of the existing coach park into a vibrant public space will enhance the area and attract more customers to the area surrounding the net huts and the Old Town, which can only benefit local business. I sincerely hope this application will go ahead as it will have equal benefit for Hastings as the refurbishment of the De La Warr Pavilion has had for Bexhill, and the Tate for St. Ives.

The proposed design and location, if not particularly exciting, will at least make it unobtrusive on the seafront. The piling of the shingle means there are no unobstructed views to the sea at that point even now.

If I thought it would destroy any part of the town's character I would be strongly against it, but I have seen no evidence it will.

Very good to see the full details.
Particular the contents of the Collection and the history of the Jerwood as a supplier of the usual ARTS.

I think the design is well considered and very appropriate to the space. It will bring a new dimension to the forum and in some improve the existing seaside traders business alongside this.
Well done!

Hastings is extremely fortunate that the Jerwood Foundation wants to site this building in their town. Why there is such a vociferous lobby against it is a mystery.

The building merges with the net huts in a delightful manner, looking as if it has always been there. There will be a much nicer open space than at present and the materials used for the fascia of the building are extremely sympathetic.

Dear Sir Madam

I fully endorse the proposal to site the Jerwood Gallery here in Rock-a-Nore Rd, I've heard the arguments against this proposal and am dumbfounded by the pettiness of the arguments against.

Surely coach spaces can be found elsewhere what's wrong with these people maybe art plays very little part in their lives.

I am in the process of rebuilding my art gallery opposite the Fishermans Museum and next door to me my new neighbours will be opening a summer seasonal gallery we will be exhibiting work by local artists and with the Jerwood Gallery in the same road will be a major draw for visitors who are interested in the visual arts.

JERWOOD GALLERY CONSULTATION - EXHIBITION FEEDBACK 5-7 MARCH 2009

We greatly value all feedback and would like to know what you think about any aspect of the Jerwood Gallery proposals.

Overall layout seems right.
View on approach from West is important - the tall net huts are the unique feature of Old Hastings, & should not be hidden by the building.
Design of Jerwood: good not to ape the shape or materials of the net huts, but current design is grim, too uncompromising & un-welcoming.
Use of skelwood: will it really keep the area alive in the winter off-season? It appears to be mainly a static collection of minority-interest paintings - hope I'm wrong!

So many projects have failed to take off - I hope this one does, as it will bring a great number of benefits to Hastings.

The plans for the building & setto site are superb, sensitive to existing buildings yet ~~not~~ progressive & modern

I wonder if the 'NO' brigade are aware of the importance of the Jerwood collection.

I think the building is lovely. It sits well in context with higher elements against the tall new shops and the lower part scaling down to the car park + street. However, this means there will be a lot of overshadowing particularly in winter. Hence the courtyard may be cold + sunless, except in summer.

The cladding materials are fabulous + couldn't be more apt. Well done! It will make the building original + memorable.

From the outset, I have been strongly in favour of this project which I think is an opportunity which the town should seize as a way forward for the rejuvenation of the whole area. I have been very encouraged by the way in which the Borough Council has pushed the project forward and by the amount of consultation/public displays etc which the Council & the Jerwood Foundation have put on.

The design of the gallery itself seems to have been made with the historic appearance of the Stade in mind. It will not detract from the well-known views of the net-stores etc. Scale, proportion and siting are quite appropriate to the area.

The concurrent improvement of the public spaces / amenities are also to be welcomed.

The present appearance with the attractive features (net-stores, boats, fishing huts, lifeboat house) marred by the eyesore of the public lavatory block (cheap & ugly even when first built) will be greatly improved.

Most importantly, the town should gain status nationally and this, in common with many sea-side towns, is long overdue.

Bring it on!

I am fully in support of the plans on view at Hastings Arts Forum. The Architects have made considerable efforts to plan for a gallery space which will not cause any controversy within the framework of a plan which will benefit the local community. The social aspect of having ~~of having~~ a collection of national importance, including 19th & 20th Century British Art in Hastings area cannot be underestimated. However, from reading the Hastings Observer over the past six months or so I appreciate that there is a considerable uphill struggle to overcome with some local opinion who appear to oppose anything which they consider change. ✓

Basically, there is inertia locally, focused on the local fishing fleet which is seen as being in decline. However, the perception of decline is misplaced. Several ~~letters~~ in the local papers have expressed fears, attributing the plan for The Terwood Gallery as a cause. I feel that this fear is misplaced, because of the E.U. Quotas, which are the real cause.

Also, from reading the <sup>observer</sup> papers I have found that the recent objection from residents of St. Leonards to the coach park facility in the car park opposite the Crown House were based on the same idea that "we don't need anything new round here". After I previously attended a consultative process at F-ISA Gallery where it was pointed out to me by the Church Warden of St. Saviour's Church that the original plans for a roundabout in Old Lorder Road would cause disruption to religious ceremonies the council have fully taken into consideration the views of possible objections and have made modifications based on feedback from local opinion. Therefore, I am in support of the plans I have seen today on display at The Arts Forum in St. Leonards. Johns

The 'massing' of the building is very good but the flat roof is not. It partly devolves into a north light shed! Perhaps a 'mansard roof' approach would provide a better compromise. Flat rooves never seem to remain weathertight!

The building does seem to be turning its back onto the open space a bit - perhaps a balcony or some other feature would help. I hope we can make it work this time since we liked the Ushida - Friday ~~building~~ proposal

Broadly, I'm supportive of the proposal to house the Jerwood collection in Hastings. I have reservations about the site that has been selected; however, be that as it may, the design looks as tho' it's taken into account the sensitivity of the locale and I particularly like the proposed finish of glazed, lunny tiles. I've not had time to fully take in the fluency of the spatial design, but on superficial viewing, it looks fine.

Generally, the collection & building would be an invaluable asset to the town & region, in spite of specific, local objections. Good luck.

Wasn't sure about the cladding initially because of similarity to net shops but am now convinced having spoken to architects. Very exciting - I hope it happens!

Think the Gallery is a fantastic idea, will bring energy and life to a negative space i.e. Coach Park. To have such a wonderful art foundation here is such a wonderful coup for Hastings.

Excellent proposal.

Well thought through + imaginative use of an underused space. It will give greater access overall to local people as well as visitors + future generations.

The design of the building + choice of material is very well considered. I feel strongly that the opportunity to see a naturally + no doubt internationally important collection will be of great benefit to current + future generations. I hope that the partnership between HBC / Jerwood + the architects comes to fruition + look forward to being one of the first to see the collection.

I am wholly in favour of the Jerwood proposals. They can only benefit the community, socially, economically & culturally. The use of the space as a lively, active and multi-functional space will make use of a scruffy piece of land. The space is central to Hastings and deserves better. The building sits well within the extant architecture and use of materials is sympathetic.

The gallery, which will be modest in size, will NOT "dwarf" the ~~Stade~~, or destroy its character. On the contrary, the gallery will improve Hastings' image, and attract tourists in winter, when the town is usually empty. I sincerely hope the proposal is accepted promptly. It would be of great benefit to Hastings if the gallery could be open in time for the 2012 Olympic Games.

- Love the materials used

- would be interested in in running an. class collection of visiting exhibitions.

- I wish you well - the Jerwood could be to Hastings what the Happy now with the Coach parking arrangements

A little worried that the Open Space may

An excellent and sympathetic design of appropriate proportions that will act as a fantastic centrepiece for this important and historical area of Hastings. I am pleased that so much care has been taken to design a scheme that enhances the surrounding area and will use local materials. The gallery will add immensely to the town as a tourist destination and I am sure will increase economic activity and boost incomes of local businesses, hotels, restaurants etc.

A very exciting project. The proposed development will greatly enhance the Stade, which at present is spoiled by the large coach park which is a real eyesore. The well thought out ensemble will be an asset to both Hastings and the surrounding area and I find it hard to understand the opposition. Wasting such a wonderful opportunity would be madness. I can't wait to see it happen.

Building is sensitive to area in every way size, shape, orientation (N, S, E, W).
Proposed materials - tiles are exceptionally beautiful & am glad Seagull deterrent has been incorporated!
(Note: my own taste is more adventurous & I did like The 'slog' design, but realise buildings etc must be more conservative & fit in with the area)
